Explore your options, discover your potential

The Network for East Anglian Collaborative Outreach (neaco) aims to help young people from East Anglia with little or no experience of degree-level qualifications to explore the world of higher education routes and opportunities.

At the centre of our approach is our Take Your Place Progression Framework, which provides the foundation to the activities delivered by partner institutions' Higher Education Champions, based in schools and colleges across the region.

Our partnership includes the five universities and nine further education colleges in East Anglia.

neaco's Mission and Values

neaco's Mission and Values inform all the work we do in East Anglia, allowing us to tailor our work to the needs of pupils, schools and communities while providing a coherent and impactful programme wherever we deliver.

When considering how to deliver the Framework activities, applying neaco's values can help develop your approach into a more impactful and sustainable experience for your audience and your institution.

Our Mission

Our mission is to support target students to make informed decisions about their future - particularly around progression to Higher Education - and to embed systemic change around Information, Advice and Guidance (IAG) provision in target schools.

We do this in three main ways

1. By delivering and coordinating outreach activities which raise aspirations and support target students to make better informed choices
2. By supporting the development of IAG related systems and infrastructure, and supporting Continuing Professional Development (CPD) for staff, in target schools and colleges
3. By evaluating our approaches to ensure we learn which interventions work best

Through this, we can work towards our vision of equal rates of progression to higher education and higher apprenticeships in target and non-target wards across East Anglia.

Our Values

COLLABORATIVE

We will work in partnership with other organisations and initiatives which have missions aligned to neaco

SUSTAINABLE

We will deliver and support activity which embeds systemic change in schools IAG; we will prioritise initiatives which are scalable and could be sustained post-neaco

RESPONSIVE

We will operate within an agreed framework, while supporting and responding to the needs of target schools and students

IMPARTIAL

We will be impartial in promoting all available pathways and higher education providers within and beyond East Anglia

LEARNING

We will undertake research to inform practice and better understand decision making of target students. We will thoroughly monitor and evaluate impact; we develop staff.

What is the Progression Framework?

neaco's Progression Framework provides a sustained programme of activities for engaging target students aged 14-19 so as to develop their understanding and ambition for higher education, enabling them to make an informed decision about their futures, and equipping them to realise their goals.

The Progression Framework is a central component of the neaco programme and our work with target schools and colleges, providing an evidence-based series of objectives and outcomes with which to design your activities, and against which to evaluate activity for our national evaluation.

The Framework is highly adaptable to the needs of your audience, the delivery environment, and the resources available to you. The Framework draws on existing sources of high quality provision and research to provide a coherent structure of meaningful engagements and supporting resources, appropriate to your audience and their existing knowledge, while avoiding local duplication.

Two key approaches to activity underpin the Progression Framework throughout the stages, objectives and outcomes, which together incrementally build our Target Pupils towards being fully equipped to make informed, positive decisions about their future progression. The first priority when deciding your approach is to develop pupil's Understanding and Preparedness, so that should their passion and ambitions change, they remain able to make informed decisions based on current and accurate information.

1) Understanding and Preparedness

Equips pupils with an understanding of Higher Education pathways, practicalities, and tools for identifying and comparing different opportunities, and prepares pupils for the routes and key milestones to reach their preferred destination.

2) Passion and Ambition

Focuses on supporting pupils' subject-related interests and ambitions, developing a mind-set which supports their progression by nurturing passions, developing new interests and enhancing their skills.

How to use the Progression Framework

The Framework is designed to be delivered flexibly through each year and stage. As a Higher Education Champion you determine which outcomes to deliver to achieve the stage objective with target pupils, and the best type and approach to your activities depending on your audience's needs and time available. You may for example decide to achieve an outcome in a 1 hour workshop, or over three 20 minute registration periods.

For the purpose of evaluation and as a requirement of the national funding, it is essential that the activity you deliver aligns to both the outcomes in the stage, and the objective of the stage overall. If a planned or requested activity does not contribute to achieving a Framework objective in a discernible way, you should revisit your planning or consider if the activity should go ahead.

Additional guidance for assessing and achieving each outcome is provided in a secondary table of Exploratory Questions, which you may choose to answer some or all of with your target students after determining their existing knowledge and aptitudes around each outcome.

Descriptors

Stage: Each contains one of the fifteen objectives neaco is evaluating, and the cumulative outcomes your activities should meet to achieve the objective. Each stage may be delivered in a term, a shorter timeframe such as a PHSE week, or across the academic year, and can be delivered sequentially or simultaneously to other stages, depending on the needs and capacity of your school and audience.

Focus: A quick reference summary of the objective and outcomes contained within each stage when discussing with key contacts.

Objective: The overall aim of each stage that the outcomes and your associated activities must contribute towards achieving, and the measure against which all of neaco's activity and progress towards our programme goals are evaluated.

Outcomes: Describe the change you should observe in your audience once they successfully complete an activity. Where outcomes are already being met for our target audience, it is not necessary to duplicate these. You may meet multiple outcomes through an activity.

Each Outcome begins with a reference code (i.e. "1.S1.1u"). These codes allow you to map your activities to the Framework Outcomes in HEAT, supporting neaco's long term evaluation and enabling us to identify any gaps should any outcomes not be being met.

GATSBY Benchmarks: Suggested outcomes and benchmarks are listed for each stage that may be met by your activities, depending on the format and content you deliver for each outcome. You can identify the specific benchmarks your activities will meet in your School Action Plan.

Integrated Skills: Are the eight personal aptitudes identified as important to pupils' success by the Skills Builder partnership. Aptitudes appropriate to each year are listed should you wish to integrate Skills Development exercises into your activity to enhance your overall outcome. It is not essential to include a skills component to your activity provided you are achieving the key outcome, and you should not deliver activity primarily or solely focussed on skills. More information and resources for integrating skills exercises can be found at <https://hub.skillsbuilder.org/>.

The neaco Supplementary Framework

For engaging target

- Parents & Guardians
- School & College Staff

TAKE

Supplementary Delivery

Whilst neaco prioritises engagement with target learners in school and college, we also recognise the role parents and teachers take in enabling progression to HE pathways. The parent and teacher sections of the framework are optional content that aim to support your primary work with target young people and enhance the sustainable impact of our activity in our target wards, schools and colleges.

neaco's Parent and Teacher provision is intended for delivery to audiences from target wards. Our content should not replace a school or college's own parental/staff engagement provision, or be delivered in a school that is not facilitating activity with target pupils that this content can support. Where a school or college provides you opportunities to engage with parents or staff, establish with them the target audience you are there to reach and its size, the messages you are aiming to convey, and the level of engagement you require. If the school or college cannot provide a mutually beneficial engagement, you could explore alternative options together, or decline the offer to focus on engaging target pupils. Prior to implementing parental or staff engagement, talk through your plans with your County Coordinator too.

Engaging parents and guardians

Parents and guardians have a highly influential role on their child's expectations about the future. Supporting this audience to understand the higher education landscape, the opportunities available to their child and routes to access them, can increase the effectiveness of our work.

Parent Framework

When planning any activity with parents, the ultimate aim should be to support target learners in meeting the relevant objective from the progression framework. For example, Objective 11 'Exploring HE course choices' might be backed up with a parents evening workshop signposting target ward parents to how they can support their child in exploring HE courses. You could also use the outcomes or exploratory questions for learners in the core framework for guidance.

The framework below outlines the key objectives for parents of children in each year group, split into two types of objective: 'Knowledge and Understanding' and 'Passion and Ambition'. The Knowledge and Understanding outcomes aim to benefit parents in supporting their child in navigating the barriers that typically prevent target students from progressing. The Passion and Ambition outcomes seek to support parents in enthusiastically exploring various progression options with their child.

Guiding Questions

neaco has developed common questions, grouped into six themes, to help guide you in preparing and planning any parent activity. Remember that any activity with parents and guardians should aim to address the needs of target learners, as opposed to simply general information sharing which the school or college might offer. Using the example again of a parent session on Objective 11 from the Progression Framework of 'Exploring HE course choices', you might also require additional reinforcement on how student finance works, as finance is a particular barrier to target learners and their families.

Delivery

The School Action Plan identifies six types of parental engagement activity you might use:

- Workshop - A practical session actively engaging with target parents, such as to explore their views about HE together
- Presentation - for example a finance talk or session explaining different progression routes
- Q&A - A drop-in session for parents to approach you, or timetabled sessions answering individual parent questions
- Taster session - parents invited to experience a sample of HE level teaching
- Comms - email/leaflet/phone call to inform parents or guardians about HE, or invite a parent to an event
- Visit - either on or off campus
- Other

Some tips on delivery:

- ✓ Focus on working with target parents and guardians
- ✓ Look for meaningful encounters with parents where you can really discuss their concerns and questions
- ✓ Make sure presentations have an interactive component, allow plenty of time for parents to speak
- ✓ Try to assess prior knowledge on the topic ahead of at the beginning of an activity if possible - be sure to explain vocabulary like HE, university, degree at the start and take care not to slip into acronyms or jargon (The foundation outcomes might help you frame this)
- ✓ Encourage everyone to contribute, such as by gathering questions to be asked on post-it notes during the session
- ✓ Ensure that any activity supports the overall Progression Framework focus for target learners
- ✓ Use the Guiding questions for parents to help prepare and frame your session
- ✓ Ensure terms and phrases are explained and understood, provide appropriate context and examples to illustrate where possible
- ✓ Signpost further support in school, college or a local university
- ✓ You can use the same framework and questions to support family workers or carers of looked-after children
- ✓ Steer away from generic or low interactivity activities in a school or college where you would have little chance to engage with target parents and guardians, even if requested by a school or college - it is not the HEC/A responsibility to deliver the school or college's statutory requirements.

For the purpose of evaluation, you should monitor the numbers of attendees at any event and collect feedback and postcodes from as many attendees as possible. For further guidance please speak to your County Coordinator or Central Team.

Supporting staff in schools and colleges neaco is committed to embedding a legacy beyond the work currently delivered in our region's schools and colleges. Equipping teachers to better understand the challenges target learners face, coupled with providing some of the resources and HE encounters needed to overcome them, is part of that legacy.

The Progression Framework for target learners is designed to integrate with and compliment the school or college's progression-related activities, and you should share it with the relevant staff in school or college who coordinate such activity. Beyond key contacts in a school or college, we recognise the instrumental roles all staff have in supporting students with information and advice, both pastoral and subject teachers, careers advisors, librarians and support staff, and can engage this audience too in support of working with target pupils. This section provides some direction as to how to achieve this.

Framework

The outcomes for teachers, like the parent outcomes, are themed around 'Understanding & Preparedness', where the aim is for teachers to know how to navigate and apply for different progression routes; and 'Passion and Ambition' where teachers have the opportunity to support students in exploring and experimenting their options.

While you are not responsible for school or college staffs' directly reaching all these outcomes, if you have ideas to help them achieve these, or are offered the opportunity to provide support, explore the approach with your county coordinator in the first instance.

Exploratory questions

In addition to the framework, you will find a list of exploratory questions that your school or college might like to explore with staff to hone their practice. They are under themes that commonly present barriers to target learners, for example the application process and finance. The questions all have a different focus to support the school/college in thinking about its own practice.

Timeline: When are progression topics introduced, is this at the right time for all students?

Information: Can you share any of the knowledge you have on progression topics?

Signposting: Are you able to direct staff to relevant resources

Target students: In your experience, what extra support might target learners need when compared to other learners?

Whilst the staff in charge of coordinating progression activity will answer many of these questions, different members of staff will also have different considerations to make, for example:

- Subject teachers have an important role in developing student passion for their subject through wider reading, in explaining the possible career and progression routes, and reference writing.
- Tutors/Study coaches might be supporting students through the whole progression process.
- A manager/sixth form lead will have a role in planning the timeline for progression and potentially tracking HE encounters
- A careers advisor might be involved with application writing, work experience or course choices.

Delivery

Continuing Professional Development (CPD) is the formal term for the training and upskilling staff receive to be more effective in their role. neaco do not expect individual HECs to offer or deliver formal CPD sessions at any point, but you but may want to support staff in a school or college, for example by:

- ✓ Running an information sharing event with resources on university finance or post-18 pathways
- ✓ Ensuring subject teachers are able to signpost wider reading opportunities around their subject to give a deeper understanding
- ✓ Signposting subject teachers to resources that enable them to talk about the potential career/study opportunities from taking their subject at Level 3/KS5
- ✓ Making teachers aware of the importance of demonstrating how skills from their subject transfer into a number of sectors and HE routes, including apprenticeships
- ✓ Enabling teachers to understand the importance of developing opportunities that support young people in developing key skills required for writing application and interviews
- ✓ Sharing resources you have found helpful, e.g. websites and publications
- ✓ Sharing successful encounters with HE or asking relevant staff to come with you
- ✓ Championing the extra-support needs of Target students and their families
- ✓ Distributing local Labour Market Information relevant to HE routes and progression

If your school asks you to run any staff session, take time to clarify the objective of the session, the staff attending, and how it will support the needs of target pupils. Your County Coordinator or Central Team can help explore requests and suggestions too.

For the purpose of evaluation, you should monitor the numbers of staff at any session and collect names, roles and feedback from as many attendees as possible. For further guidance please speak to your County Coordinator or Central Team.
